

When selecting a contractor...

Are they licensed and insured?

Are they a local company?

Are they experienced in insurance restoration?

Will they provide references?

Do they offer a warranty?

Why Us?

Allegiance Construction Services, a family owned and operated company, was founded and operates with a passion to share a wide range of skills and knowledge, using quality materials, maintaining absolute professionalism, while embracing gratitude to work at a special place... your home.

Concerned about storm damage to your home?

Severe storms are a scary event in itself. However, the damage caused to your home and property should be even more frightening, especially if it's not repaired correctly by a professional.

Did you know?

- Damage can be difficult to identify with an untrained eye
- Unidentified damage may cause significant structural and health risks
- Hail damage may void insurance renewals and shingle manufacturer warranties
- There is a time limit on filing a claim

Damage caused by wind/hail

- Torn/missing shingles
- Indents and bruising to shingles
- Dents in metal trim/gutters/vents
- Cracked/broken siding
- Water leaks (some unseen)

If damage is unaddressed, it could lead to water damage, wood rot, structural issues, even mold growth.
